15th Triennial of Small Sculpture Fellbach

The 15th edition of the Triennial of Small Sculpture Fellbach deals with the vitality of things.

Things, including artistic objects, are integrated into social and societal contexts. Objects are alive, they vibrate and generate resonance. When they travel, their meanings and values shift. They possess a charge that can change and even disappear.

The exhibition "The Vibration of Things" by Elke aus dem Moore raises fundamental questions of the present – questions that are central to our coexistence on this planet. Starting from the assumption that objects are vital, living, and bearing power vitality , artistic positions are presented that deal with socially highly topical questions of ownership, interconnectedness, resonance, restitution and responsibility.
